Name: _____ Date: _____

Today you played the board game called Get the Job. In addition to having the skills to do a certain job (specific knowledge and ability) you also became familiar with the soft skills (good work ethic, communication skills, positive attitude) that employers seek in prospective employees. You also completed a simplified resume.

While participating in today's activity, what did you learn about yourself with regard to workplace skills and how can you apply this to your daily activities? How can this help you in your future?
